Fleeting Nature of all Things

Summer has come to an end and unfortunately this year after our wet spring weather conditions, our summer seems to have arrived in the middle of autumn. The few beautiful days were welcomed and enjoyed by all particularly the children on their school holidays, people holidaying within Ireland and foreign visitors to Ireland. Despite inclement weather the season of summer was welcomed for family get togethers and was a time when families escaped from routine and enjoyed a day out, and children immersed themselves in having fun. The few fine days were especially welcomed by the farming community for cutting silage, hay, harvesting the grain and various other crops. Since the beginning of the year despite extremes of weather, untimely deaths, illness, financial and other personal difficulties, autumn is upon us once again. Holidays are over, routine has begun and the weekly Newsletter is back.

There is something special about the arrival of autumn, the leaves are turning gold, russet and red, wild fruits and berries are beginning to ripen, the days are getting shorter, and a faint chill is in the air.

We pull out our favourite sweaters, and are drawn to the comfort of the hearth, and realise the seasons can be compared with the various stages of our lives. As we watch leaves fluttering to the ground we are reminded that nature's cycles are mirrored in our own lives. Spring heralds new life and fast growth; the heat of the summer equates to the period in our lives when our days seem long and life is all consuming. Then we reach the beautiful season of autumn, our lives mellow with the colours of nature; we slow down a little; we have a wealth of experience and gained knowledge upon which to meditate as we come to appreciate the natural order of things. Autumn is a time of letting go and releasing things that have been a burden. Nature gives us the gift of 'being,' the season is filled with magic and mystery, and when we reflect on the beauty around us, we are open to a whole new world of inspiration and love.

Autumn reminds us of the impermanence of everything. We experienced the budding of life in spring and the flowering and profusion of summer. Year after year as the leaves fall the bare branches remind us of the fleeting nature of all things.

BALLINHASSIG PARISH NEWSLETTER TWENTY FOURTH EDITION

This publication is the Twenty Fourth Edition of the Ballinhassig Parish Newsletter. Since its introduction in the autumn twenty four years ago it has been published voluntarily on a weekly basis from September to June.

Thanks to everyone who is involved in collecting and submitting news, the remaining few who distribute it to station areas and the many parishioners who were involved in any way with the publication over the years.

The newsletter is now produced, edited and printed in the P.A.N. Centre (Parish Office). It contains both church related and news from individuals, clubs and organisations from all areas of the parish. The publication may look small, but it takes effort and dedication to keep it going week after week, year after year.

I hope you will continue to enjoy and support the Newsletter and in the future that it will continue to meet the parishioners needs as a means of communicating parish related information.

I would like to take this opportunity to once again remind all individuals, clubs and organisations to continue to send in the news from all areas of the parish. It is essential that notices/news are received in the P.A.N. Centre by 2.00pm on Wednesday. Looking forward to your continued support and co-operation in the year ahead. (Mary O'Halloran, P.A.N. Centre (Parish Office 4885062))
