THE GOLDEN RULE

In an older version of the primary school religion program there was a question, What is the Golden Rule? The answer was simply "Do unto others what you would have them do unto you"

It's a wonderful saying really. Just imagine the difference it would make if we really took it on board and tried to put it into practice. It would certainly cut down on a lot of trouble in people's lives. It's about a particular kind of justice. Its literally about how we would want to behave with and treat others because that is what we would like them to do with us, if roles were reversed.

It's a Jesus kind of justice. Because his kind of justice is usually the very opposite to what people think and yet, when we think and act the way Jesus would have it, we are doing exactly what he wishes. It is transforming. Jesus' justice and way of living is not about me, me, me. Its about others and when we choose the way of Jesus and live according to his kind of justice, it's liberating, its life enhancing and most enriching. May we always seek to enrich others and by so doing be so enriched ourselves.

World Meeting of Families 2018 (Ireland August)

To-day Sunday October 1st marks the beginning of the One year Preparation Programme across the Diocese of Cork & Ross towards the World Meeting of Families 2018. At the heart of this preparation is the family as members of their local worshipping community and therefore is based around our gatherings each week for Eucharist in our parish which is a 'family of families' We must remember that everyone belongs to a family and in to-days world the meaning of family is not merely the traditional unit as we knew it. Family means young and old; single or married, whether you have children or not etc. We begin the creation of a 'Sacred Space' near the banner in our church and add relevant symbols, change colour as the liturgical seasons change.
