“A pure heart create for me, O God”

That is the response to this week's psalm. Why do we respond? What does it mean to Respond to the Responsorial Psalm? It is about keeping alert? It is about just finding a way to involve people in the Mass? Why do we respond? Let's take a closer look then at the Psalm.

“Have mercy on me, O God, in your kindness. In your compassion blot out my offence. O wash me more and more from my guilt and cleanse me from my sin” It is said that the Psalms deal with every human experience and emotion. Anger, faithlessness, despair, joy, gratitude, hope, doubt, pain, hurt .... all find their way into the Psalms and, at the heart of all of them is a belief that God is still there and continues to have the answer if we can find the heart in ourselves to be open to His guidance.

Today's response is around having a “pure heart” and, if need be, it being created for us. A pure heart is a gift. We know the value of a healthy heart and the consequences of one that isn't. Equally a pure heart is the way to go. A pure heart leaves no room for bitterness or complacency when it comes to making life choices and having an eye for the poor and marginalised. A pure heart is one that beats gently and speaks encouragingly and prays continually.

A pure heart may not be isolated from anxiety or disappointment, but it knows its Creator and calls out in the day to day living of life for God's guidance, wisdom and understanding.

“Give me again the joy of your help with a spirit of fervour sustain me, that I may teach transgressors your ways and sinners may return to you” These lines are rooted in mission. They are about having purpose and a desire to bring others along with us on the road of faith. Someone once asked a priest “When does the Service begin?” He replied “When the Mass ends!” As we leave, that's our chance to respond! That will be our chance to make a difference. “The response to the psalm is .....” YOU!

A daily prayer to St Joseph

In his letter “Patris corde” (“With a Father’s Heart”) Pope Francis notes how, “Every day, for over forty years, following Morning Prayer ” he has “recited a prayer to Saint Joseph taken from a 19th century French prayer book of the Congregation of the Sisters of Jesus and Mary.” This prayer, he says, expresses devotion and trust, and even poses a certain challenge to Saint Joseph,” on account of its closing words: “My beloved father, all my trust is in you. Let it not be said that I invoked you in vain, and since you can do everything with Jesus and Mary, show me that your goodness is as great as your power.”

At the conclusion of his Letter, he adds another prayer to St Joseph, which he encourages all of us to pray together:

*Hail, Guardian of the Redeemer, Spouse of the Blessed Virgin Mary.
To you God entrusted his only Son;
in you Mary placed her trust;
with you Christ became man.*

*Blessed Joseph, to us too,
show yourself a father
and guide us in the path of life.
Obtain for us grace, mercy, and courage,
and defend us from every evil. Amen.*

(St. Joseph’s Feast Day is March 19th)

Thought for the Week

*When people walk away from you, let them go. Your destiny
is never tied to anyone who ‘leaves’ you; and it doesn’t mean they
are bad
people;
it just means that their part
in your journey is complete.*
